

LURC 2011

Linguistics Undergraduate Research Conference

Friday June 3, 2011

Stevenson Fireside Lounge

12:40 p.m.	Refreshments
12:55 p.m.	Opening Remarks	Jaye Padgett
1:00 p.m.	Binding at a Distance: On the Resolution of Non-Adjacent Anaphors in Sentence Processing	Joseph King & Caroline Andrews
1:30 p.m.	All the Many Numbers: A Presentation about Numbers and Quantifiers	Matilda Morrison
2:00 p.m.	Floating tones? In my Chinese? It's more likely than you think: a Phonetic and Phonological Examination of Polar Questions in Shanghainese	Devin Tankersley
2:30 p.m.	Break with refreshments
2:45 p.m.	Aspect Entailments of Spanish Prepositions por and para	Lauren Negrete
3:15 p.m.	Hawaiian Stress Assignment	Sarahlynn Emery
3:45 p.m.	Break with refreshments
4:00 p.m.	Distinguished Alumnus Address The role of spectral discontinuity and amplitude drop in the perception of length contrasts	Shigeto Kawahara (Linguistics student at UCSC in 2000-2001, now Assistant Professor of Linguistics at Rutgers University)
4:45 p.m.	Closing remarks	Sandy Chung