

Trilateral Linguistics Weekend (TREND) 2008

On May 10, 2008, The Linguistics Research Center (LRC) at UC Santa Cruz hosted the 2008 Trilateral Linguistics Weekend, an annual workshop that serves as a forum to encourage collaboration among linguistics students and faculty from UC Berkeley, Stanford, and UC Santa Cruz. Affiliates of all three institutions were invited to present the results of their research to the rest of the greater Bay Area linguistics community. The program for TREND 2008 is given below.
