18th Annual Graduate Research Symposium

Friday, April 22, 2022

The UC Santa Cruz Graduate Research Symposium offers graduate students from every division the opportunity to present their research or other graduate work to the public.

Short Talks:
- Mykel Brinkerhoff
- Nick Van Handel
- Maya Wax Cavallaro

Video Presentations:
- Jack Duff
  - Not without a plan: Requirements for intention in the linguistic representations of complex events
- Ben Eischens
  - Many to one?: Investigating how we make sense of spoken words
- Andrew Hedding
  - On the Relationship between Questions and Answers: Evidence from San Martin Peras Mixtec